

Apriél Powell

Attorney Apriél Powell is a health law attorney, practicing almost exclusively in the field for almost years upon graduating from Thurgood Marshall School of Law and becoming licensed attorney that same year in 2006.

Her clients have included 3 of the major member health care systems in the world renowned Houston Medical Center. Ms. Powell's scope of work has included legal representation of physicians, academic medical institutions, tertiary health care institutions, correction (inmate) care, and global health insurance payors. Her work in transactional and regulatory matters in HIPAA, physician contracting, and health system organizations has allowed her to be featured as a panelist for Texas Bar of Minority Counsel CLES, Council of Black Women Physicians, and other professional organizations.

During the initial period of COVID, Ms. Powell appeared as a guest on The Rickey Smiley Morning Show to inform listeners about advance directives and the legal impact of patient care during the Public Health Emergency. Her segment was listed as a top feature in 2021 with over 3 million listeners. Apriél and her sister, internist Adrienne Powell, MD have partnered together to host Powell Power Hour bloginars on all things clinical-medical and been featured at global corporate auxiliary retreats.

Apriél is proud to be named a 2021 Distinguished Alumni of Thurgood Marshall School of Law, where she is now in her third semester of teaching Health Law to third year law students.
