ZOOM MEETING ID: 713-555-4321
OFFICE: 236E
OFFICE HOURS: Tuesday and Thursday 10:00-11:00 a.m.; 1:00-4:00 p.m.
(All other times by appointment only)

OFFICE HOURS:

From January 10-24, my office hours will be online. When we resume in-person classes on January 25, I will resume in-person office hours (with masks).

Thereafter, my office hours will be in-person unless I tell you otherwise. If I have virtual office hours, I will have a Zoom meeting open (meeting ID: 713-555-4321) during office hours. If you find yourself in the waiting room during Zoom office hours, that means I am meeting with another student and will get to you as soon as possible. You may also set up a specific meeting time with me, either during office hours or at another time if my office hours do not work for you.

CLASS FORMAT:

Like last semester, I will use TWEN for classroom management, including email, posting course materials, assignment turn-in, and posting grades. You must sign up for my Lawyering Process II Spring TWEN page for sections 2 and 8. Our classes will be online from January 11-20. Beginning January 25, our classes will be held in-person at the law school unless I tell you otherwise.

NOTE FROM THE PROFESSOR:

Welcome back! I look forward to working with you this semester. My goal is for you to succeed. If you are having a hard time with the course material, please reach out to me.

Email is the best way to reach me. You can email me anytime, and I will reply to you as soon as possible. If you email a question about class material or assignments, I may need to respond to the entire class so that everyone has equal access to information. In that event, I will not identify the student who posed the question.
COURSE BOOKS AND MATERIALS

The required materials for this course are:

1. Coughlin, Malmud, & Patrick, A Lawyer Writes, 3rd Edition
2. The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation, 21st Edition
3. Texas Rules of Form (Greenbook), 14th Edition
5. Lawyering Process II Spring Course Reader (a compilation of materials I will provide by PDF on TWEN)

The highly recommended textbooks for this course are:

6. Black’s Law Dictionary

These books are available at Texas Southern University’s Bookstore in the Student Life Center. Some of the books are also available from other sources, such as Amazon. Make sure you check the edition number to purchase the correct book (you may not use an old edition). If you have not already done so, you should purchase the required books right away. We will be using some of them immediately.

Occasionally, I will post required course materials on TWEN. I strongly suggest that you get a large three-ring binder to keep all class materials organized.
COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

The primary goal of this course is to teach you basic lawyering skills that are critical to the lawyering process. We will build on the concepts and skills you learned and practiced during the fall semester and continue to refine your legal analysis skills. In addition, you will learn how to serve and write as an advocate representing one side in a dispute; your purpose will not be to explore but to persuade the court to decide the case for your client.

By the end of this course, you should be on your way to being practice-ready, meaning you should be able to perform any legal task typically assigned to a first-year law student intern, including interpreting applicable law, thoroughly applying that law to any set of facts, and conveying a well-reasoned analysis in a legal document.

In general, this course will focus on the basics of the following skills:

1. Legal analysis and writing. Coursework will include reading cases, narrowing and expanding holdings, using and distinguishing precedent, synthesizing cases, identifying legal issues, applying law to facts, interpreting statutes, developing and evaluating legal arguments, and writing objective or predictive analyses. This semester we will focus on persuasive legal writing.

2. General writing skills. Students will learn the importance of being able to communicate in writing competently with correct spelling, punctuation, word choice, and phrasing. Students will continue to work on writing skills, style, and grammar rules to produce well-written legal documents that are clear and concise.

3. Critical reading and thinking. Students will learn to read and understand judicial opinions and the impact the opinions may have on future cases, using the case analysis skills discussed above. Students will also learn to interpret statutes.

4. Citation skills. Students will learn proper Bluebook and Greenbook citation form.

5. Professionalism. Students will learn to recognize professional responsibility in legal writing, and to show professional courtesy by being on time, prepared for class, respectful to classmates and the professor, and timely submitting assignments.
STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The following list provides a more detailed description of the student learning outcomes and objectives for this course. This list reflects the key lawyering skills that you acquired during the fall semester in Lawyering Process I, and will continue to learn, develop, and practice during the spring semester in Lawyering Process II. You will continue to improve these skills in your second and third years of law school.

GRADING

1. Course Format. Lawyering Process II is a two-credit hour course. The course consists of two basic components: legal analysis and legal writing.

2. Grade Components. Grades for this class will be based on the cumulative total of the scores received for the following:

   - Writing Assignment 1
   - Writing Assignment 2
   - MPT
   - Other Assignments (total)
   - Participation, Professionalism, and Attendance

   TOTAL: 1000 points

   - Writing Assignment 1 200 points
   - Writing Assignment 2 400 points
   - MPT 100 points
   - Other Assignments (total) 250 points
   - Participation, Professionalism, and Attendance 50 points

3. “Other Assignments” include, but are not limited to, legal analysis exercises, citation assignments, case charts, and quizzes. I have allocated 250 points for this category. If we end up not using all these points, everyone will receive those remaining points.

4. Participation, Professionalism, and Attendance. Class participation and attendance will be considered in determining your final course grade. “Participation, Professionalism, and Attentiveness” points (“PPA points”) will be deducted for the following: being unprepared for class; not actively participating in class discussions or exercises; being disrespectful to me or your classmates (for example, talking or looking at your phone when one of us is speaking); missing a scheduled or mandatory conference with me without providing adequate notice beforehand (at least 24 hours before the scheduled meeting except in emergency situations); failing to timely sign up for a mandatory conference as instructed; writing the wrong exam number on an anonymous assignment; excessive tardiness; and displaying immature or unprofessional conduct. Examples of “immature or unprofessional conduct” include but are not limited to: sighing out loud in class or making other inappropriate outbursts; walking in and out of class after instruction has begun (unless you have a medical problem and have received an accommodation from the Dean of Students); permitting your cell phone or other electronic device to ring during class; viewing material on your laptop or smart electronic device unrelated to class; using profanity or offensive language during class; and engaging in a verbal/physical altercation in my presence. Generally, in gauging what constitutes unprofessional behavior, consider whether your conduct would be acceptable in a court of law. If it would not be tolerated, please do not do it in my classroom.
5. Mandatory Curve. All LP classes are required to adhere to the following mandatory curve, as reflected in the current Student Rules and Regulations:

- A: 10-13%
- B: 25-34%
- C: 35-45%
- D/F: 0-08%

Please note that the only way for these ranges to add up to 100 is to award the maximum in each category, such that 53% of the class receives a grade of “C” or below. As you consider a reasonable grade outcome for this class, please keep this in mind.

ACCOMMODATIONS AND EMERGENCIES

The TMSL administrative process for student accommodations will be carried out by the TSU Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO), which is managed by Director Sharron Benavides. SASO specializes in accommodation services and will provide efficient and professional services to Thurgood Law students who may need accommodations.

New Accommodation Requests

1. Students must have a diagnosed disability and authentic documentation to apply for services.
2. Once the applicant's disability information is received, SASO will contact the student to schedule an Intake appointment (virtual) for the student to self-report any disability challenges and barriers associated with the condition that impacts functioning abilities in the learning environment.
3. SASO will next determine the student's eligibility status and accommodation plan based on the disability, historical documentation, and self-reporting data. SASO will send a notification letter indicating the applicant's service status. The notification letter requires the applicant's signature.
4. Upon receipt of the signed notification letter, SASO will forward a copy of the accommodation letter to the student, with instruction on how to complete the accommodation process.
5. Students must meet with each Instructor to discuss how accommodations will be implemented. The student and Instructor must sign the accommodation letter. The student will return a copy of the signed accommodation letter to SASO electronically. The signed accommodation letter is used for advocacy purposes if accommodation concerns are reported.
COVID-Related Accommodations

The first two weeks of TMSL’s spring semester will be online. On January 24, TMSL will be open for the Spring 2022 academic term for synchronous (in-person) courses. COVID-related protocols for the Spring 2022 academic term will support the quarantine time range for students who test positive or are exposed to COVID during the Spring 2022 semester. Documentation is required.

1. COVID accommodations will be processed for those who report testing positive or exposure to COVID. Documentation is required.
2. Students will quarantine for 10 days.
3. Students must submit Release of Care documentation from a licensed health care professional to Student Accessibility Services Office (SASO), return to class, and discuss missed assignment/exam make up plans with Instructors. Students will not engage in class activities during the quarantine period.
4. Students must communicate if more time is needed. Documentation is required to support additional time needs.

Instructors cannot re-teach the course for excessive absences. Students are encouraged to seek assistance from the Instructor and pursue tutoring. Students should engage in self-study during the absence time.

Accommodation services are not to fundamentally alter course formats, requirements, standards, or guidelines. Consequently, no remote or online attendance or learning modalities will occur for in-person courses for the Spring 2022 academic term.

If you have questions, please contact SASO via email DisabilityServices@tsu.edu or phone 713.313.4210.
WELLNESS RESOURCES

Law school is hard. If you are struggling, I encourage you to seek help. If you see someone else struggling, encourage that person to reach out. We must take care of ourselves and each other.

Associate Dean Ratra works with students to resolve issues that might impact their course of study. You can reach her by calling or stopping into the Dean’s suite or by email at miamy.ratra@tsu.edu.

As part of your tuition, TSU’s University Counseling Center (in the Student Health Center) offers confidential counseling and support, crisis intervention, grief counseling, outreach, and referral services to all enrolled students. Contact the counseling center through http://students.tsu.edu/departments/university-counseling-center/ or by calling 713.313.7804 during business hours (Monday-Friday, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.). For an emergency after business hours, call 911. For a non-emergency crisis after business hours, call 713.313.7863.

The Texas Lawyers Assistance Program from the State Bar of Texas is an amazing resource, not only for practicing lawyers but specifically for law students as well. TLAP offers confidential crisis counseling, referrals, and peer assistance relating to alcohol and drug abuse, mental health issues, and wellness. Contact TLAP through https://www.tlaphelps.org or by calling 800.343.8527 (available 24/7).

I am available if you need a sounding board or have any other type of problem you need to discuss. Please come to office hours or email me.
COURSE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

1. Class Preparation

To maximize your learning experience, you should complete the reading and writing assignments in the Syllabus no later than the date the assignments are due. For instance, if under the date “Tuesday, January 11, 2022,” it says read pages 285-305 in A Lawyer Writes, you should have done this reading before class on that day. Please note that reading and writing assignments are subject to change, and sufficient notice will be given in advance for any alterations to assignments.

2. Exam Numbers

You will be required to use an exam number when submitting certain assignments for this class. You must adhere to the instructions given with each assignment. You will use three different exam numbers over the course of the spring semester (two major writing assignments and an in-class MPT). You can obtain exam numbers from the Registrar’s Office. Any changes to the exam number policy or schedule will be announced in class, sent by e-mail, or posted on TWEN. You will not need an exam number to post your daily assignments unless I tell you otherwise.

3. Writing Assignments

3.1 Overview of Major Writing Assignments. You will complete two major writing assignments in the spring semester—Writing Assignments 1 and 2. Both will be persuasive litigation briefs. You must use an anonymous exam number when submitting each of these assignments. DO NOT put your name on these graded writing assignments so that we may preserve your anonymity during the grading process. Also, remember that you must comply with all formatting requirements for each of these assignments.

For Writing Assignment 1, you will generally be graded both on form and substance. You must complete this assignment to the very best of your ability, and I will provide detailed, individualized critique on it. Following Writing Assignment 1, you will attend a mandatory conference with me to discuss the assignment and your progress in this course. Writing Assignment 2 will also be graded both on form and substance. Writing Assignment 2 will be your final performance exam in Lawyering Process II; thus, you may not receive as much individualized critique on this assignment.

3.2 Shorter Writing Assignments. In addition to your major writing assignments, you will complete shorter writing assignments that will help develop your analytical and writing skills. Some of these assignments may be given in class under timed conditions. Hard work on these shorter, lower-point assignments will help prepare you for the higher-stakes major writing assignments.

3.3 In-Class, Timed Multistate Performance Test. You will also complete an in-class timed MPT so that you can become familiar with bar exam assessments.
4. Assessment

This course is designed to help you acquire and develop the skills to practice law effectively, efficiently, and ethically. To help you meet that goal, I have designed assignments to allow you to practice a skill, analyze your own strengths and weaknesses according to individualized critique and in-class discussion, and then refine your skills as the semester progresses. In this way, the course mirrors what you will experience in practice, whether as an intern or as a recent graduate.

4.1 Faculty Assessment. Just as in practice, you will encounter three basic ways to assess and thereby improve upon your work. First, you will receive a faculty assessment from me. I will provide individual, written critique on Writing Assignments 1 and 2, and on the MPT assessment, and we will discuss common problems on those assignments in class. I will also provide critique in mandatory individual conferences after Writing Assignment 1 and any other time upon request. Throughout the semester, I will provide individual and group critique on various other practice exercises and shorter writing assignments. You may revise any assignment for additional critique (but no points credit).

4.2 Writing Advisor Assessment. You may at times receive individualized written or oral critique on exercises from one of my writing advisors. If you feel that a writing advisor has provided advice that is inconsistent with something that I have said in class, you should defer to me. You are ultimately responsible for your own work; thus, if you are presented with conflicting advice, it is your responsibility to seek clarification from me.

4.3 Peer Assessment. Our class will engage in peer assessment. You will have the opportunity to receive comments from your classmates in a variety of ways throughout the semester. We will engage in some peer review and critique exercises, collaborative writing assignments, and group discussions throughout the year.

4.4 Self-Assessment. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, you will engage in self-assessment. In response to faculty and peer assessment, you will assess your work to reflect on your development and adjust where necessary. I will provide other opportunities for self-assessment as well. For example, I will provide writing samples and checklists designed to help you edit and refine your work by comparing your work to the exemplars. Likewise, I may at times provide model answers or annotated responses to short writing exercises for which you did not receive individualized or group critique. As with the other forms of self-assessment, it will be up to you to make the most of this type of assessment.

5. Paper Formatting Requirements

The following formatting requirements for this course are based on the general rules for filing documents in most state and federal courts and apply to the major writing assignments, namely Writing Assignments 1 and 2. I will strictly enforce format requirements to ensure that all students have an equal amount of space in which to convey their ideas and learn from their mistakes. You will lose points for violating these formatting requirements. These formatting requirements will also help preserve your anonymity on the papers. If you have any questions regarding these guidelines or the guidelines on any individual assignments, please ask me. The formatting requirements are as follows:

5.1 Microsoft Word. All documents must be typed using Microsoft Word and uploaded to TWEN as a Word file. Do not upload an assignment as a .pdf.

5.2 Type Font. All documents must be typed in Times New Roman font and, if a physical copy is turned in, submitted on plain white, 8-1/2 x 11-inch paper (double-sided preferred).

5.3 Font size. The font size must be 12-point font and footnotes (if any) may be no smaller than 10-point font.

5.4 Header and Footer Font. Headers and footers (including page numbers) must be in the proper font type and size as well.

5.5 Margins. Papers must have one-inch margins on both sides and at the top and bottom. This means no typing of any sort should be in the one-inch white space of the margins.

5.6 Spacing. Text must be double-spaced. Footnotes, block quotes, and headings must be single-spaced.

5.7 Spacing Between Sentences. Some legal writers prefer one space between sentences, and others prefer two. By spacing between sentences, I mean how many times you hit the space bar after the sentence concludes. I have found that many lawyers and judges prefer two spaces. You may choose whether to use one space or two between sentences, but whichever you choose, you must be consistent. You will lose points for inconsistency. Note, this includes the spacing between citation sentences.

5.8 Tabs. Tabs, such as those used to begin a new paragraph, must be one-half inch in length.

5.9 Page Numbers. Each assignment must be consecutively paginated at the bottom of each page (centered).

5.10 Remove Meta Data. Please remove individually identifying meta data from any document you electronically turn in to preserve the anonymity of the grading process.

5.11 Editing. Print a hard copy of your assignment and check to verify compliance with these format requirements.

5.12 Printed Copies. You are required to turn in printed copies of some assignments. If a hard copy of your assignment is turned in, all pages of the assignment must be stapled together (in the upper left-hand corner).

6. Consequences for Late or Over-Length Assignments

6.1 Late Submission of Assignments. Because failure to timely submit a legal document in real life can have detrimental, irreversible, and sometimes fatal consequences, it is important to learn early in your legal education the importance of submitting assignments on time. Please turn in assignments on time to avoid serious damage to your grade.

You will be required to upload most, if not all, of your assignments on TWEN. Whenever you have successfully uploaded a document to TWEN, you will receive an email confirmation from TWEN. If you do not receive this confirmation, this means that your document has not been successfully uploaded and you need to try it again. Accordingly, do not wait until the very last minute to submit an assignment online, as this could result in a late submission for the assignment. Finally, it is your responsibility to prove that you submitted an assignment on TWEN by the deadline; thus, for your own protection, you should save your TWEN confirmation emails.

In the practice of law, lateness has serious consequences. Similarly, lateness will have serious consequences in class. If an assignment is turned in less than one hour late, 10% of the available points will be deducted before any other deductions. If an assignment is turned in more than one hour late but less than twenty-four hours, an additional 10% will be deducted before any other deductions. Accordingly, there will be a 20% late penalty for papers more than one-hour late on the first day. Each subsequent day will receive an additional 10% penalty until no points remain.

6.2 Submission of Over-Length Writing Assignments. Each major writing assignment will have a maximum page limit that I will enforce strictly. For each page or portion of a page that exceeds the page limit, you will receive a 10% reduction in your grade. In addition, I will not review any pages that exceed the page limit. If your paper does not comply with the font or margin requirement, I will consider it to have exceeded the page limit and will adjust the score for the assignment accordingly. Furthermore, you will lose points on a writing assignment for any other violations of the formatting rules. Please review these rules carefully.

6.3 Submitting an Assignment Multiple Times. If you submit an assignment multiple times, I will grade only the one turned in last. If the last submission is late, the assignment will be considered late, and I will deduct points accordingly.

7. Attendance

Class attendance is mandatory. I will take attendance at the beginning of each class. Per the Student Rules and Regulations, for this two-hour course, you will be permitted two absences. Tardiness will not be permitted and will be considered an absence, as will dismissal from class for misconduct or lack of proper preparation. Please see the Student Rules and Regulations for information on grade reduction and further details on absences. The class attendance rule is strictly enforced. In addition, please review the Covid-19 Policy (page 18) for further information regarding the Attendance Policy.

8. Collaboration

You may discuss some of your assignments with your colleagues in your section of Lawyering Process II. You are all likely to learn from each other and will benefit more from the course if you approach it in a collegial manner. Indeed, this is consistent with the real-life-practice of law, as it is not uncommon to discuss and test some ideas with colleagues. However, your final written product on all assignments must be your own. Moreover, no person can review or revise your work—this includes writing advisors, classmates, family members, lawyers, and writing labs or student resources (either on the TMSL or main campus), and every other person. When you are writing or outlining your writing assignments, you may not work directly with another person and you may not discuss specific language you are putting on paper, the precise structure of your writing, or any other details of your writing assignment. I should never see two papers that make the exact same arguments, follow an identical substructure, have substantially identical sentences, etc. Further, you may not use documents provided in any other LP sections while working on your assignments. Collaborating with students outside of your section or using any materials not provided by me will be considered a violation of this collaboration policy and will subject your assignment to a penalty. The matter may also be forwarded to the Dean for appropriate action. In addition, you may receive zero points for that assignment and may receive an F in the course on this basis alone, regardless of your points on other assignments.

I will inform you when collaboration within your LP section on an assignment is permitted. If I do not announce that you may discuss your assignment with your colleagues, you are to assume that collaboration with them (or anyone else for that matter) is not allowed. Exchanging ideas with others on an assignment where collaboration is prohibited will be considered cheating and have dire consequences. If you are unclear whether collaboration is allowed on a particular assignment, please ask me.

9. Plagiarism

Plagiarism in any form is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. You may not plagiarize any other written work, including, but not limited to, another student’s writing, a sample, an assignment document, a document from a law firm, something you find on the internet, or any document filed with any court. Doing so is a violation of school policy, and the matter will be forwarded to the Dean for appropriate action. In addition, you will receive zero points for that assignment and may receive an F in the course on this basis alone, regardless of your points on other assignments.

10. Gun Policy

State law permits you to carry a concealed firearm on campus into areas that have not been designated as gun-free zones. My office and any space in which I work or meet with students is a gun-free zone; thus, it is unlawful to carry a firearm inside these spaces. Bringing a firearm into my office or any other designated gun-free zone on campus could lead to criminal charges and/or expulsion from this university. For a complete list of the gun-free areas on campus and the rules governing campus carry at this university, please visit Texas Southern University’s website.

11. Online Class

11.1 From January 10-23, 2022, TMSL classes will be held in an online format. This online class policy will apply while classes are online. Classes will resume on campus on January 24, 2022. If our class must switch again to an online forum for any reason, this online class policy will apply.

11.2 The same attendance and participation rules and expectations apply for on-campus and off-campus class sessions. The school requires me to take attendance for every class. You must have your video on during class. I must be able to verify your attendance. If you are unable to use your video, please let me know.

11.3 If you attend class on campus, regardless of whether I am teaching in our classroom or online, you must be in our physical classroom during class and have a computer and headphones with you.

11.4 If you attend class off campus, you should be in a space with minimal distractions and interferences and be able to access your course materials. Silence notifications on your computer and phone. We must all do our best to maintain a professional environment.

11.5 When you join the Zoom class, turn your video camera on but mute your microphone. Turn on your microphone only when you speak in class.

11.6 Treat the online class as a professional environment. Do not join a Zoom class while engaging in other activities, such as driving a car or taking a walk.

11.7 You can access our online Zoom class with meeting code 713-555-4321. You must be logged in and ready to go before class begins so that we can begin class on time.

11.8 If technical difficulties occur during class, please check your email for further instructions. Please be patient and expect technical difficulties. If you experience technical problems, please rejoin our Zoom class as soon as you are able.

11.9 If possible, use a desktop or laptop computer rather than a mobile device. The connection will be better, the video will be more stable, and using a mobile device for a Zoom class will consume an enormous amount of data.

TITLE IX POLICY

Texas Southern University is committed to fostering a safe learning environment. As a professor, one of my responsibilities is to foster a safe learning environment in class. Federal Title IX regulations and Texas Southern University prohibit discrimination based on sex, which includes sexual harassment, sexual violence and misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. Because these incidents can undermine a student’s academic success, the university encourages students who have experienced sexual conduct prohibited by this policy to report these incidents when they happen to the university’s Title IX coordinator or University Confidential Resource so that the students can get the help they may need.

My goal is for students to comfortable sharing information related to their life experiences in classroom discussions, in written work, and in one-to-one meetings. I will seek to keep private any information shared to the greatest extent possible. However, I also have a mandatory responsibility to notify the university’s Title IX coordinator when I become aware of incidents of prohibited conduct that violate the university’s Title IX policy. If a student chooses to share with me about having survived sexualized or intimate partner violence including rape, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence or stalking, Texas Southern University requires me to share this information with the university’s Title IX coordinator.

Students may also speak confidentially to the University Counseling Center. Please feel free to visit the center’s website, www.tsu.edu/ucc, for more information about their services. Also, students may speak with the university’s Title IX coordinator by calling 713.313.1371 or emailing titleix@tsu.edu.
