TMSL Family and Friends Band Together to Support New Bar Initiatives

One of the most popular quotes from our namesake, Justice Thurgood Marshall, states “None of us got where we are solely by pulling ourselves up by our bootstraps. We got here because somebody - a parent, a teacher, an Ivy League cronie or a few nuns - bent down and helped us pick up our boots.”

TMSL alumni are the perfect example of a body of people who invest their money and commitment to help ensure the success of our students.

Recently we rolled out the “Bar Bridge Builder Fund,” which many of you may have seen; but what you may not know, is that this idea truly started with two students, Kelechi Onwumere 3L and Marcella Hagger 3L. They wanted to appeal to alumni and friends to help fund bar preparation courses for TMSL students.

Onwumere and Hagger stated that they were doing this to build advocate readiness as one investment can change the future.

Like many great visions, TMSL alumni wasted no time supporting this focused and purposeful initiative. At our initial September event for the DC Area Alumni Brunch the charge to support this bar appeal was led by TMSL alumni board member Marchris Robinson, ’92, who excited the attendees so much with his zeal and excitement for TMSL, that together $65,000 was raised in gifts and pledges.

Robinson’s bar prep appeal was to a large group of alumni and friends, including TSU Board Chairman Derrick Mitchell, TSU President Austin Lane, and other TSU/TMSL alumni and friends.
The excitement about the Bar Bridge Builder program is spreading, and most rewarding, is that TMSL alumni continue, as they have in the past, to support our bar prep mission through consistently giving back to our students in tangible ways. As you think about how you may support this initiative, keep in mind, that support can come through a range of efforts.

For example, Larry Taylor, TMSL Class of 2008, advocated to the board of the Texas Trial Lawyers Association, of which he is a board member, for five $1000 scholarships, which were awarded to five of our July 2016 Bar Takers.

Omar Vargas, TMSL Class of 2010, started a Facebook appeal for bar scholarships. His firm, the Law Office of Omar Vargas, PC, awarded five TMSL students with $500 toward bar study expenses. Vonda Bailey, TMSL Class of 2014, contacted the school directly to ask how she could help, and ultimately awarded $3500 in cash to one July 2016 bar taker.

This semester, a group of recent TMSL 2015 grads formed the Mainframe Bar Scholarship. This scholarship is intended to provide financial assistance to 3L students currently enrolled at TMSL that exhibit both financial need and dedication to diligent bar study, while demonstrating how they have been impacted by their time at TMSL—and they, in turn, have left their mark on the law school. $3000 was awarded to one Feb 2017 bar taker and another Mainframe Bar Scholarship will be awarded to a July 2017 bar taker.

Our students take advantage of these gifts as the need for financial support in bar taking is a very real concern for them.

For example, most recently, Peter Clarke, Class of 1996, received 25 essay applications from our students for only two available $1500 Bar Scholarships. Clarke not only awarded the two bar scholarships to the top 2 finalists, but also gifted all top four finalists with a $300 gift certificate. In addition, Clarke invited all the finalists to have 24/7 access to his office for bar studies.

TMSL students are so committed to bar prep that many their student organization initiatives involve raising funds on their own. Through the Office of External Affairs, TMSL alum, Baldemar Gutierrez ‘77, makes an annual gift to both BLSA and HLSA of $5000 each. This year, BLSA elected to use the funds of this gift to award its graduating members bar scholarships.

This brings us to a great point. Support does not always look financial, but sometimes it looks like a meal. For example, thank you to TMSL Alumni Darrell Jordan ’06, Alexia McWhinney ’15, Reginald Wilson Jr.’15, and Reginald Harris ’18, for donating meals to our July 2016 Bar Takers.

Kudos to the hard work and dedication of the TMSL Office of Academic Support. Marsha Griggs, Assistant Dean of Academic Support / Bar Readiness and her team—Ronda Harrison and Victoria McCoy, Assistant Directors of Academic Support; Zel Burns, Senior Administrative Assistant—Legal; and a group of loyal volunteers are doing a wonderful job!

This semester has seen great excitement in the Office of External Affairs. Our students and our school are strongest, when our TMSL alumni and friends are involved. Thank you for your support!

Professor April Walker was elected the new general counsel for the Texas Southern University Faculty Senate effective October 2016. As a member of the Thurgood Marshall School of Law faculty since 2004, and an experienced counselor at law she brings a wealth of knowledge and experience.

Professor Fernando Colon-Navarro co-authored an article in the book Novos Direitos Privados titled Direito Internacional, Imigração, Vulnerabilidade e Reconhecimento. This article is a comparative study of immigration law in Brazil and the United States. For publication, this article was published in Portuguese. In addition, Professor Colon and his mentoring work with TMSL students was spotlighted in the Houston Lawyer (Volume 54, Number 2, September/October 2016). This issue focused on the importance of mentorship and highlighted those lawyers who are making a difference in the legal profession. In the article, Judge Josefina M. Rendón shared Professor Colon’s background and his work with the summer program in Puerto Rico and discussed the special attention, mentoring and instruction Professor Colon provides to TMSL students. You may read the entire article (found on pages 30-31) at the following link: https://issuu.com/leosur/docs/thl_septoct16/1. Professor Colon also visited the Federal University of Ouro Preto in Brazil and met with professors and students in the university’s new Master’s Program. In this program, students research cultural diversity and new systems of justice. Professor Colon spoke to the group about Thurgood Marshall School of Law’s experience with the LL.M. program in Immigration and Naturalization Law, diversity issues, and immigration and human rights concerns. Lastly, during this same visit, Professor Colon taught a mini-course on American immigration law and another on the use of technology in the law school classroom.

Professor L. Darnell Weeden participated in the Thurgood Marshall Lecture Series, on Wednesday October 5, 2016, by discussing his recent article entitled “In Fisher v. University of Texas, Derrick Bell’s Interest Convergence Theory is on a Collision Course with the Viewpoint Diversity Rationale in Higher Education”, 2016 Utah L. Rev. OnLaw 101. According to Professor Weeden, his article's contention that Professor Bell’s view of interest convergence in the context of diversity and higher education did not give enough deference to the collaborative elements of interest convergence, generated some very productive intellectual dialogue with his colleagues.
ONE TO WATCH: TIM ADAMS

After earning his Bachelor’s of Arts with honors, Tim decided to leave his position as a detective and pursue law school. As a law student Tim has served as an intern for the Honorable Judge Kenneth Hoyt in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas and the Fort Bend County District Attorney’s Office. Currently, Tim is a Law Clerk at Clarke & Associates Law Firm and in his spare time continues to volunteer in the community coaching youth sports. As a 3L student Tim has accepted a position in the Harris County District Attorney’s office following graduation in May 2017. As the current Student Bar President, Tim Adams has become the one to watch.

How does your law enforcement background influence your perspective of the law? My law enforcement experience gives me an sincere appreciation of the law, but it also makes me aware of the potential for negative impacts if the law is misapplied or selectively enforced.

What is one of your most memorable experiences at TMSL? One of my most memorable experiences at TMSL is participating in our Fall 2016 Back-to-School drive, which benefited area youth. Because of the generosity of TMSL students, staff, and other community sponsors, school supplies were provided to approximately 70 elementary school students in need. This event was especially special to me because I grew up in a low-income, single parent home, and but for the contributions of others, I would not have had the necessary tools to start the school year. It was a truly rewarding event for all involved.

What advice would you give new law students? I would advise new law students to maximize their law school experience by getting involved, even during their first year. Whether it be participation in student government, advocacy competitions, or community service, be sure to balance your resume. After all, there will be hundreds of other law students competing for the same jobs and you have to set yourself apart from the pack.

What do you like most about TMSL? More than anything else, I love the genuine family-feel of TMSL. From the students, to faculty, to alumni, everyone is approachable and always willing to assist.

How do you plan to use your law degree? I plan to use my law degree to serve my community within the criminal justice system. In my opinion, there are very few things more important than seeking justice for the victims of criminal activity, and also ensuring that the rights of the accused are protected.

What do you plan to do 9 months after graduation? By the nine month post-graduation mark, I hope to be respected member of the legal community, and someone my TMSL constituents will be proud to call one of their own.

TMSL Supports Veterans

The Veterans Law Students Association (VLSA) is an active advocate organization for veterans and their families. General membership is composed of forty mostly active duty, reserve, national guard, and veterans from all branches of services. Also, some of our members are spouses or dependents of military veterans or active duty. This year, to do their part, student leaders of VLSA decided to provide shoes for homeless veterans, their spouses and dependents.

One of the greatest needs homeless veterans have this time of year, is shoes. As the weather gets colder and rainy, many veterans do not have adequate shoes. VLSA began its quest in late September to collect 100 pairs of shoes. We are grateful to have had the support of the TMSL administration, faculty, staff and student body, who donated 162 pairs of shoes in our efforts. Thank you to all who participated and gave selflessly. We hope to make this a tradition in years to come.
