2015 - 2016
ACCOMMODATIONS INFORMATION

OFFICE OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

Room 223B
Dean’s Suite
713-313-4468
I. Identifying the Need for Accommodations

Students with disabilities who require accommodations must self-identify those needs to the Assistant Dean for Student Development as follows:

Fall Semester
- Accommodations other than exams: August or as need arises
- Interim Exams: As need arises
- Final Exams: November 15th

Spring Semester
- Accommodations other than exams: January or as need arises
- Final Exams: November 15th

Summer
- Final Exams: First Week of Classes

Students with disabilities who require accommodations make these needs known in a timely fashion and provide appropriate documentation requirements. (See Application). Do not assume that your information is known to the Assistant Dean for Student Development. Submit all completed forms and documentation to the Office of Student Affairs. The law school will review the application and prepare written notices to the student and his/her professors.
Students who do not require accommodations need not make their disabilities known. The information on the nature of the student’s disability and accommodations is treated as confidential information under applicable federal, state, and university laws and policies, and is only provided to individuals who are privileged to receive such information on a need-to-know basis. Faculty members who are apprised of a disability are advised that the nature of the student’s disability is confidential and not released without the student’s written permission.

In some cases where only minor accommodations are required (such as requesting to sit in the front row because of a visual, hearing, or other impairment), the student should feel free to request this of the faculty member. If requests for minor accommodations are not responded to adequately, the student should make the request to the Assistant Dean for Student Development.

II. Accommodations

The Law School will make reasonable accommodations for properly documented disabilities. Such accommodations will not be provided if they fundamentally alter the nature of the program or if they would be unduly burdensome either financially or administratively.
A. Academic Modification

Academic modifications include reduced course loads to a minimum of 12 hours, extended time for exams or similar modifications. The student is expected to complete the curriculum as listed in the Student Rules and Regulations, no exceptions.

Only modifications that do not fundamentally alter the nature of the program and that are not unduly burdensome financially or administratively are required by law. While the law school must provide justification for refusing to allow a requested reasonable accommodation, higher education institutions are given substantial deference in establishing their academic requirements. Having a disability does not authorize an excused absence. This office does not issue excused absences.

B. Auxiliary Services

Auxiliary services may include, but are not limited to, assistance with photocopying and library retrieval, assistance in getting to and from classes, and other support services in connection with the academic programming. Services for personal use are not provided.

The Law School does not provide individual tutorial assistance tailored to the special needs of learning disabled students. The Law School offers a tutorial program for first year law students, which does not discriminate on the basis of disability. The learning disabled student may participate in the program. Additionally, the Assistant Dean for Student Development may refer learning disabled students to the University’s Office of Disabled Students services in order to obtain additional help in appropriate cases.

Occasional assistance in the library may be obtained by making a request of the library desk staff. The student who will require more extensive assistance and/or assistance on a regular basis should make this need known to the Assistant Dean for Student Development. That office will work with the Law Library staff to facilitate an appropriate schedule of assistance. Students who are unable to receive satisfactory responses to their requests for assistance should direct this concern to the Assistant Dean for Student Development.

C. Exam Modifications

Exam modifications may include additional time to take the exam, restroom breaks, and taking the exam in a separate exam room from the class. Students requesting certain exam modifications may be asked to ascertain the format of the exam in order to determine the appropriate modification. The need for additional time would be affected by whether the exam will be in a multi-state format or an essay form.
All exam modification requests are to be directed to the Assistant Dean for Student Development. (This form is included in the application. (See Application). Because of the extra time involved to arrange these requests, students must make such requests no later than the dates listed in Section I of this policy. Exam accommodation requests must be renewed each semester. Depending on the nature of the disability, new or updated documentation may be required. Any student who arrives at an exam that does not provide the applicable modifications must notify the proctor at that time. This will allow the law school to provide proper accommodations. Any student who does not follow this procedure and takes the exam without notifying the proctor will not be allowed to contest the accommodations provided/not provided.

Please note that accommodations provided for the bar examinations may not be the same accommodations as those provided by the Law School. Inquiries concerning accommodations for the Texas Bar Examination may be directed to:

State Board of Law Examiners
510 South Congress Avenue South 116
Austin, Texas 78711
(512) 463-1621
www.ble.state.tx.us

D. Parking
There are several accessible parking spaces in the front of the law school and East Garage near the Law School for individuals who have state issued handicap parking designations.

E. Accessible Restrooms

All restrooms in the law school are accessible to students with disabilities.

F. Classrooms

All classrooms are accessible. For this reason, students with mobility impairments are requested to advise the Assistant Dean for Student Development as early as possible.

G. Housing

There are several choices of accessible housing on campus, including both dormitory and apartment living. For information on housing, contact 713-313-7205.

H. Modification of Policies and Practices

Class attendance is generally deemed to be a fundamental aspect of legal education. For that reason, faculty members are not expected to waive attendance policies for students with disabilities. The Office of Student Affairs will not issue excused absences.
III. Academic Dismissal & Readmission

Students who are academically dismissed sometimes raise a disability as the basis for the academic difficulty. Unless an academically dismissed student timely applied for accommodations, presented appropriate documentation, and demonstrated that the law school either denied accommodations or provided insufficient accommodations, he will not be readmitted. Students with complaints should follow the procedure under Section IV. Grievances.
IV. Grievances

Texas Southern University has adopted an internal complaint procedure providing prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging any action prohibited by the Title II of the ADA and/or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

All complaints concerning the law school should be addressed to the Assistant Dean for Student Development at:

Office of the Dean
Mrs. Rita Johnson, Sr. Administrative Assistant
Dean’s Suite

The following steps explain the procedure in the School of Law:

(1) A complaint should be filed in writing, contain the name and address of the person filing it, and briefly describe the alleged violation of the regulations.

(2) A complaint should be filed within thirty (30) days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation.

(3) An investigation, as may be appropriate, shall follow a filing of complaint. The Assistant Dean for Student Development shall conduct the investigation. These rules allow for an informal but thorough investigation, affording all interested persons and their representatives, if any, an opportunity to submit evidence relevant to a complaint.

(4) A written determination as to the validity of the complaint and a description of the resolution, if any, shall be issued by the Assistant Dean for Student Development and a copy forwarded to the complainant and the Dean of the Law School no later than fifteen (15) business days after its filing.

(5) The Assistant Dean for Student Development shall maintain the files and records of the Texas Southern University Thurgood Marshall School of Law relating to the complaints filed.
(6) The complainant can request an appeal of the case in instances where he or she is dissatisfied with the resolution. The request for appeal should be made within five (5) business days to:

Dannye Holley, Dean
Thurgood Marshall School of Law
3100 Cleburne Ave.
Houston, Texas 77004

(7) The right of a person to a prompt and equitable resolution of the complaint filed hereunder shall not be impaired by the person’s pursuit of other remedies such as the filing of an ADA complaint with the responsible federal department or agency. Use of this complaint procedure is not a prerequisite to the pursuit of other remedies.

(8) These rules shall be constructed to protect the substantive rights of interested persons to meet appropriate due standards and to assure that Texas Southern University complies with the ADA and implementing regulations.

If the complainant is dissatisfied with the determination by the law school, he/she may appeal within five (5) business days to

Dr. William Saunders, Assoc. Provost for Student Services
Texas Southern University
3100 Cleburne Avenue
Recreational Center
Houston, Texas

DIRECTIONS FOR DOCUMENTATION OF A LEARNING DISABILITY

FROM YOUR UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOL
If your Disability was diagnosed while you were in undergraduate school, call or write your Accommodations Department and request:
1. A copy of accommodations you received while enrolled there.

FROM OUTSIDE TESTING AGENCIES
An official notice of testing accommodations granted for the LSAT test if you received accommodations.

IF RECORDS ARE NOT FROM YOUR UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOL OR YOU WERE NOT PREVIOUSLY DIAGNOSED WITH A LEARNING DISABILITY:
You must submit a comprehensive, individualized, Psycho-Educational Evaluation. Share this page with the person who conducts the evaluation.
What is it? A 4-6 hour battery of tests and information about you.
Who conducts it? A professional trained in evaluating Adolescent or Adult Learning Disabilities, such as a school Psychologist or Educational Diagnostician.
What tests are given? An IQ test such as the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Tests
Standardized, individualized, achievement tests in Reading Comprehension, Reading Decoding, Written Expression for Content and Mechanics, Math Reasoning and Computation, Listening, and Speaking. Screening Devices such as the Wide Range Achievement Test are unacceptable.
Where can I go? Many private psychologists and learning clinics offer these services. The office of disabled students can also give you referrals.
What must be in the report in order to obtain accommodations?
1. Background information: developmental history, medical history, primary language dominance, past and current academic functioning, previous evaluations, and a history of services for disabilities. This information can be gathered from previous evaluations, self-reports, report cards, and transcripts.
2. All standardized test scores and subtest scores, including percentiles.
3. Interpretation of tests results.
4. A specific diagnosis of Learning Disabilities based on a significant discrepancy (of more than 15 points) between the IQ score and one of the Achievement test scores. The diagnosis must rule out alternative explanations, such as language differences for students who speak English as a Second Language. A discussion of co-existing diagnoses and the way alternative explanations were ruled out.
5. A clear and specific statement of how the Learning Disability substantially impairs work and learning, documented by the information in the evaluation.
6. Suggested accommodations, with a specific rationale for each. Educational documentation must be cited for educational accommodations. Thus, a math disability will not provide a need for additional time to write an essay.

FROM OUTSIDE TESTING AGENCIES:
An official notice of testing accommodations granted for the LSAT if you received accommodations.

IF RECORDS ARE NOT FROM AN UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOL OR YOU WERE NOT PREVIOUSLY DIAGNOSED WITH ADD/ADHD:
You must submit a comprehensive, individualized, Psycho-Educational Evaluation.

What is it? A 4-6 hour battery of tests and information about you
Who conducts it? A Professional trained in evaluating Adolescent or Adult ADD/ADHD and Learning Disabilities, such as a school Psychologist. Medical Psychiatrists are qualified to diagnose ADD/ADHD, but some do not conduct the educational component of the evaluation. Some clinics offer joint evaluations with two specialists, one for the medical component, and one for the educational component. The counseling office can also give you referrals. Show this page to the person(s) conducting the evaluation.

What tests are given? 1. An IQ test such as the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Test
2. Standardized, individualized, achievement tests in Reading Comprehension, Reading Decoding, Written Expression for Content and Mechanics, Math Reasoning and Computation, Listening, and Speaking, Screening Devices such as Wide Range Achievement Test are unacceptable.

This information can be gathered from previous evaluations, self-reports, report cards, and transcripts.
2. All standardized test scores and subtest scores, including percentiles.
3. Interpretation of test results.
4. A specific diagnosis of ADD/ADHD, as described in the DSM IV Manual; a discussion of coexisting diagnoses and the way alternative explanations were ruled out.
5. A clear and specific statement of how the ADD/ADHD substantially impairs work and learning, documented by the information in the evaluation.
6. Suggested accommodations, with a specific rationale for each. Properly substantiated, the University will not question a professional’s diagnosis of a student’s disability of ADD or ADHD. Nevertheless, the accommodations will not be provided without additional, specific documentation. For instance, the presence of distractibility will not automatically warrant accommodations such as extra time on examinations, without supporting data from the educational tests.
