These tort actions involve civil wrongs committed by one person against another and/or property of another.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

The following are the analytical skills you are expected to develop and master in order to achieve the course objectives or student learning objectives for Torts II. You will continue to sharpen these skills in your study and application of various concepts in your second and third-years as you prepare to take the bar exam.

- (i) Plaintiff's arguments,
- (j) Defendant's arguments,
- (k) Rule(s) of law,
- (l) Policy rationale,
- (m) Disposition, and
- (n) Add your own commentary.

GRADING

Your final grade will be based on the following:

Multiple Choice Exam	25%
Mid-Term Essay Exam	25%
Final Comprehensive Examination	50%

ACCOMMODATIONS

If you require special accommodations, please fill out the appropriate forms. Your application and documentation will remain confidential. Your prompt attention will allow the law school to accommodate you as soon as it has been made aware of your situation.

If you require any special accommodations regarding any of the assignments, including, but not limited to, extensions, note-takers, etc. Please contact the appropriate designated individual.

PARTICIPATION

CLASS PARTICIPATION: Each student is required to read the assigned materials before they are discussed in class in order to contribute to the class discussion of the cases and related policy concerns. No points are awarded for the act of participating in the class discussion. Some of the cases may be assigned to individual students in advance.

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend class on a regular basis. The grade of any person who has been absent from class more than five (5) times during the semester may be lowered one (1), two (2), or three (3) grades depending on the number of excess absences. Excessive absence from class may result in administrative withdrawal from the course. The number of absences a student may accumulate in a semester before the administration withdraws a student from class defines excessive absence. Absence is defined as a failure to attend class, or failure to be present at the start of class. The number of absences permitted in a three-hour course this semester is five. However, the above will be tempered as a result of the pandemic.

PROFESSIONALISM

ELECTRONIC DEVICES: Laptop computers, tablets, or mobile devices may be used for assessing your e-textbook and for class-related note taking and reference. During class, however, it is inappropriate to use those devices for any other purpose (e.g., to download music, play games, watch DVDs, access inappropriate websites, or to instant message others). Use of a laptop, tablet, or mobile device in class is a privilege. In addition to any other sanction, the use of these devices may be rescinded, individually or collectively, if it is abused. Cell phones, smart watches, and similar devices must have the ringer turned off ( or the volume muted). Again, the above is tempered by the pandemic and the hybrid nature of teaching this course.

CLASSROOM CONDUCT: Students are expected to demonstrate professionalism while attending class. You must respect your classmates at all times. Refrain from excessive side conversations or other distracting conduct during class. Once class begins, you should remain seated and fully engaged in the discussion.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Student rules and regulations govern the management of the Thurgood Marshall School of Law. These rules and regulations are derived from requirements for the Accreditation of the law school by the American Bar Association. Texas Southern University and the Faculty of the Thurgood Marshall School of Law require compliance with these rules. The rules adopted by the Faculty are amendable by a majority vote of the Faculty. As law students and future lawyers, each of you should carefully read these rules and maintain the copy you received for future reference while enrolled as a student at the law school. A copy of this document is posted on the law school's website at www.tsu.edu/academics/law under Students Affairs. It is also available on the flash drive distributed to 1L students during Orientation. The Thurgood Marshall School of Law is a full-time day program. Students are expected to devote full time to law study. Employment is strongly discouraged for first year students. In no event may any student work in excess of 20 hours per week during the academic year. If you should have any questions about these rules and regulations you are strongly encouraged to discuss them with your professors and/or any member of the administration of the law school.

Every law student, from the date of admission to graduation shall be charged with knowledge of all provisions of the student rules and regulations. A copy shall be posted on the law school's website and remain there throughout each academic year. Hard copies will be placed in the office of the Student Bar Association, the office of each currently registered student organization, the Office of Assistant Dean for Student Development, the office of each administrative law school department, and to each member of the faculty.

TITLE IX INFORMATION

Texas Southern University is committed to fostering a safe learning environment. As professor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment in class. Texas Southern University and Federal Regulations (Title IX) policy prohibit discrimination based on sex and this includes sexual harassment, sexual violence and misconduct, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. Texas Southern University understands that these incidents can undermine a student's academic success, so Texas Southern University encourages students who have experienced sexual conduct prohibited by university policy to report these incidents when they happen to the University's Title IX Coordinator or University Confidential Resource so that the student can get the help they may need.

It is my goal that you feel able to share information related to your life experiences in classroom discussions, in your written work, and in one-to-one meetings. I will seek to keep information you share private to the greatest extent possible. However, I also have a mandatory responsibility to notify the University's Title IX Coordinator when I become aware of incidents of prohibited conduct that violate the university's Title IX policy.

Students may speak confidentially to the University Counseling Center. Please feel free to visit their website www.tsu.edu/ucc for more information about their services. Also, students may speak with the University's Title IX Coordinator by calling 713.313.1371 or emailing titleix@tsu.edu.

ASSESSMENT DESCRIPTION

The first exam will be 30 MBE-type questions. The mid-term exam will consist of two essays. All of the questions are designed to help develop the legal reasoning skills necessary to demonstrate effective legal argument. We will practice MBE questions every Friday. We will bring in Bar preparation experts to help develop appropriate bar exam essay writing techniques. Essay and multiple question exams will be reviewed and assessed. The Thurgood Marshall School of Law administers a uniform comprehensive examination for all sections of Torts at the end of the semester. When administered, the final uniform comprehensive examination is the same for all four sections of Torts.

Practice exams will be administered throughout the semester to support you in developing your legal analysis skills. The MBE exam, the essay mid-term, and the final uniform comprehensive exam are mandatory. Failure to take a mandatory exam may result in a reduced or failing final grade. Excessive absences and lack of preparation may also result in a lower grade.
