

THURGOOD MARSHALL LAW REVIEW

CALL FOR PAPERS FROM THE THURGOOD MARSHALL LAW FACULTY AND STUDENTS

EST. 1970

EDITORIAL BOARD

2022-2023

Tamsin Woolley
Editor-In-Chief

Lillie Graham
Executive Editor

Shaneil Snipe
Managing Editor

Paige Coleman
Lead Articles Editor

Jennifer Luna
Digital Content Editor

Robert Gant
Business Editor

Adrianna Ivory
Symposium Editor

January 17, 2023

Thurgood Marshall Law Review is seeking manuscripts for Volume 47 Issue 2 Spring 2023 from the Thurgood Marshall School of Law Faculty and Students.

We are pleased to announce that Thurgood Marshall Law Review will continue to produce publications during the Spring 2023 term. This Spring 2023, we will host a Law Review Symposium focused on the current state of abortion law. As such, we encourage Thurgood Marshall faculty and students to submit manuscripts discussing this topic. Overall, there is no theme for the Spring edition, and we seek diverse topics. We are encouraging members of the Thurgood Marshall faculty and students to submit manuscripts for publication in Volume 47 Issue 2. Thurgood Marshall Law Review requests that contributors submit original pieces between 20 to 40 pages. The deadline to submit your manuscript is Tuesday, February 7, 2023. Selected papers will be published in Thurgood Marshall Law Review's Spring 2023 publication. If you have questions about article submissions, please contact our Lead Articles Editor, Paige Coleman at tmlrev.le@gmail.com or Editor-In-Chief, Tamsin Woolley at tmlawreview@gmail.com. We thank you in advance for your submission, and we look forward to reading some great material.

Sincerely,

Paige Coleman
Lead Articles Editor